

Dr. Edit Kajtár

Current Function	senior lecturer in labour law, University of Pécs, Faculty of Law, Hungary
Professional Career	2008 – present: senior lecturer in labour law, University of Pécs, Faculty of Law 2005 – 2008: junior lecturer, University of Pécs, Faculty of Law 2002 – 2005: PhD researcher, University of Pécs 2011 PhD University of Pécs 2007 LLM University of Warwick 2002 JD University of Pécs
Main Research	The right to strike Alternative dispute resolution methods European and Hungarian employment policy Equal treatment, disability and gender discrimination Data protection
Memberships	Association of Hungarian Labour Lawyers Mentor of the Oriás Nándor College, Labour Law Unit
Main publications	The right to strike and its possible conflict with other fundamental rights of the people. National Report for XX World Congress of Labour and Social Security Law 2012 (co-author) Freedom of Services and Establishment v. Industrial Conflict in the European Economic Area and Russia; The Laval and Viking Cases. [in R. Blanpain and A. M. Swiatkowski (eds.) Bulletin of Comparative Labour Relations] pp. 83–102. (co-author) A sztrájkjog, mint versenyképességet befolyásoló tényező. [in Bankó Z. et al.: A Munka Törvénykönyve hatása a gazdaság versenyképességére. Pécs–Budapest, FSZH, 2010] Changing Perspective on Social Inclusion of People with Disabilities: a European - Hungarian Outlook. [in Berke Gy, et alia (szerk.): Emlékkönyv Román László születésének 80. évfordulójára. 2008, Pécs, Kódex] pp. 167–191. The Role of the European Employment Strategy in Activating Hungarian Labour Market Policies. [in J. de Koning (ed.): Managing Transitional Labour Markets in the New EU Countries. Rotterdam, Dutch University Press, 2007] pp. 151–168. (co-author) The European Social Model and Coordination of Social Policy. New Challenges at the EU Level. TLM Net Paper (co-author)
Contact	kajtar.edit(at)ajk.pte.hu